

RNLI lifeguards are returning to our local beaches for the summer and are appealing to people planning a trip to the beach, to choose one of our lifeguarded beaches, and to swim between the red and yellow flags.

This is where the lifeguards will be watching, and they have checked that it is the safest area of the beach given the weather conditions.

Please also remember to keep away from the groins and piers.

